

Proud with his forme, in his eie pride expressed:
His tongue all impatient to speake and not see,
Did stumble with haste in his eie-sight to be,
All fences to that fence did make their repaire,
To seele onely looking on fairest of faire:
He thought all his fences were lockt in his eye,
As Jewels in Christall for some Prince to buy. (glast,
Who tending their own worth from whence they were Did point out to buy them along as you past.
His faces owne margent did coate such amazes,
That all eyes saw his eies enchanted with gazes.
He giue you Aquitaine, and all that is his,
And you giue him for my sake, but one louing Kisse.
Prin. Come to our Pauillion, Boyer is disposde.
Bro. But to speak that in words, which his eie hath dis-
I onelic haue made a mouth of his eie, (clos'd.
By adding a tongue, which I know will not lie.
Lad. Ro. Thou art an old Loue-monger, and speakest skillfully.
Lad. Ma. He is Cupid's Grandfather, and leagnes news of him.
Lad. 2. Then was Venus like her mother, for her father is but grim.
Boy. Do you heare my mad wenches?
La. 1. No.
Boy. What then, do you see?
Lad. 2. I, our way to be gone.
Boy. You are too hard for me. Exeunt omnes.

Actus Tertius.

Enter Broggart and Boy.
Song.

Bra. Warble child, make passionate my sense of hearing.

Boy. Concolinel.

Brag. Sweete Ayer, go tenderesse of yeares: take this Key, giue enlargement to the Swaine, bring him festinatly hither: I must imploy him in a letter to my Loue.

Boy. Will you win your loue with a French braule?

Bra. How meanest thou, brauling in French?

Boy. No my compleat master, but to ligge off a tune at the tongues end, canarie to it with the fecte, humour it with turning vp your eie: sigh a note and sing a note, sometime through the throat: if you swallowed loue with singing, loue sometime through: nose as if you snuff vp loue by smelling loue with your hat penthouselike ore the shop of your eies, with your armes crost on your thinbellie doublet, like a Rabbet on a spit, or your hands in your pocket, like a man after the old painting, and kept not too long in one tune, but a ship and away:
these are complements, these are humours, these betraie nice wenches that would be betraied without these, and make them men of note: do you note men that most are affected to these?

Brag. How hast thou purchased this experience?

Boy. By my penne of obseruation.

Brag. But O, but O, I would I had a penne.

Boy. The Hobbie-horse is forgot.

Bra. Callst thou my loue Hobbie-horse?

Boy. No Master, the Hobbie-horse is but a Colt, and and your Loue perhaps, a Hackney.

But haue you forgot your Loue?

Brag. Almost I had.

Boy. Negligent student, learne her by heart.

Brag. By heart, and in heart Boy.

Boy. And out of heart Master: all those three I will proue.

Brag. What wilt thou proue?

Boy. A man, if I liue (and this) by, in, and without, vpon on the instant: by heart you loue her, because your heart cannot come by her: in heart you loue her, because your heart is in loue with her: and out of heart you loue her, being out of heart that you cannot enioy her.

Brag. I am all these three.

Boy. And three times as much more, and yet nothing at all.

Brag. Fetch hither the Swaine, he must carrie mee a letter.

Boy. A message well simpatis'd, a Horse to be em-balladour for an Ass.

Brag. Ha, ha, What saiest thou?

Boy. Marrie sir, you must send the Ass vpon the Horse for he is verie slow gated: but I goe.

Brag. The way is but short, away.

Boy. As swift as Lead sir.

Brag. Thy meaning prettie ingenious, is not Lead a mettall heauie, dull, and slow?

Boy. Minnime honest Master, or rather Master no.

Brag. I say Lead is slow.

Boy. You are too swift sir to say so.

Is that Lead slow which is fir'd from a Gunne?

Brag. Sweete smoke of Rhetorike,
He reputes me a Cannon, and the Bullet that he:
I shoote thee at the Swaine.

Boy. Thump then, and I flee.

Bra. A most acute iouenall, voluble and free of grace,
By thy fauour sweet Welkin, I must sigh in thy face,
Most rude melancholie, Valour giues thee place.
My Herald is return'd.

Enter Page and Clowne.

shin.

Ar. Some enigma, some riddle, come, thy Lenny begin.

Cl. No enigma, no riddle, no Lenny, no salue, in thee male sir. Or sir, Plantan, a plaine Plantan: no Lenny, no Lenny, no salue sir, but a Plantan.

Ar. By verue thou inforcest laughter, thy sillie thought, my spleene, the heauing of my lunge prouokes me to ridiculous smyling: O pardon me my stars, doth the inconsiderate take salue for Lenny, and the word lenny for a salue?

Page. Doe the wise thinke them other, is not Lenny a salue?

Ar. No Page, it is an epilogue or discourse to make Some obscure precedence that hath tofore bin faire.
Now will I begin your morrall, and do you follow with my Lenny.

The Foxe, the Ape, and the Humble-Bee,

Were still at oddes, being but three.

Ar. Vntill the Goose came out of doore,

Staying the oddes by adding foure.

Page. A good Lenny, ending in the Goose: would you desire more?

Cl. The Boy hath sold him a bargain, a Goose, that's flat

Sir, your penny-worth is good, and your Goose be fat:
To sell a bargain well is as cunning as fast and loose:
Let me see a fat Lenny, I that's a fat Goose.

Ar. Come hither, come hither: how did this argument begin?

Boy. By saying that a Costard was broken in a shin.

Clow. True, and I for a Plantan: thus came your argument in:

Thus came your argument in: then the Boyes fat Lenny, the Goose that you bought,
And he ended the market:

Ar. But tell me: How was there a Costard broken in a shin?

Page. I will tell you sencibly.

Clow. Thou hast no feeling of it Moth,
I will speake that Lenny.

Costard running out, that was safely within,
Fell ouer the threshold, and broke my shin.

Ar. We will take no more of this matter.

Clow. Till there be more matter in the shin.

Ar. Sirra Costard, I will infranchise thee.

Clow. O, marrie me to one Francis, I smell some Lenny, some Goose in this.

Ar. By my sweete soule, I meane, setting thee at libertie. Enfreedoming thy person: thou wert emured, restrained, captiuat, bound.

Clow. True, true, and now you will be my purgation, and let me loose.

Ar. I giue thee thy libertie, set thee from durance, and in lieu thereof, impose on thee nothing but this:
Beare this significant to the countrey Maide Iaguenetta:
there is remuneration, for the best ward of mine honours is rewarding my dependants. Moth, follow.

Signeur Costard adew. Exit.

Clow. My sweete ounce of mans flesh, my in-conie lew: Now will I looke to his remuneration.

Remuneration, O, that's the Latine word for three-farthings: Three-farthings remuneration, What's the price of this yncle? I, do no, He giue you a remuneration: Why?
It carries it remuneration: Why? It is a fairer name then a French-Crowne. I will neuer buy and sell out of this word.

Enter Berowne.

Ber. O my good knaue Costard, exceedingly well met.
Clow. Pray you sir, How much Carnation Ribbon may a man buy for a remuneration?

Ber. What is a remuneration?

Cost. Marrie sir, halfe pennie farthing.

Ber. O, Why then threefarthings worth of Silke.

Cost. I thanke your worship, God be wy you.

Ber. O stay saue, I must employ thee:
As thou wilt win my fauour, good my knaue,
Doe one thing for me that I shall intreate.

Clow. When would you haue it done sir?

Ber. O this after-noon.

Cl. Well, I will doe it sir: Fare you well.

Cl. O thou knowest not what it is.

Cl. I shall know sir, when I haue done it.

Ber. Why villaine thou must know first.

Cl. I will come to your worship to morrow morning.

Ber. It must be done this after-noon.
